Texas Ranger's Bedtime

This Texas Ranger is going to bed.
Down on his hat he lays his head.
He wraps himself in bedroll tight,
And this is the way he sleeps all night.
Morning comes, He opens his eyes.
Off with a toss the bedroll flies.
Soon he is up and dressed and away.
Ready to protect on the range all day.

What in the Wild by David Schwartz

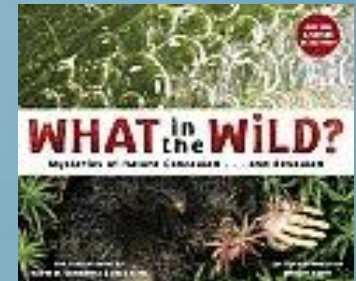

Lumpy Mounds

These lumpy mounds upon the ground,
you may not recognize.

They're left behind once we have dined—that's how we fertilize!

We're long and lithe, we wriggle and writhe; of dead things we dispose.

We daily toil to plow the soil, and help stuff decompose!

Craft
